The Ennatical Clergy.

The following from The Chicago Times, meets our fullest concurrence. From every quarter the press comes to us loaded down with the bloodthirsty and atroclous utterances of the Abolition preachers. The Devil—the Arch Flend in the character of Moloch—seems in these latter days, to have selected them as his especial mouth-piece. There can be neither peace, nor quiet, nor good order in the land while it is afflicted with this horrible evil:

Of all bloodthirsty people, the most bloodthirsty whether the accretion of bloodthirsty, whatever the occasion of bloodthirstiness, are the bloodthirsty priests. Of all men who profess a faith and belie it in their practice, the worst are those professed teachers of the religion of Jesus who reverse all the benign maxims of the Divine Master in times of popular excitement by inciting from their pulpits disorder, violence and bloodshed. Such have lived in all countries and at all periods, and unfortunately they are not less numerous now in this country than they have been at any time during the past twenty years. Un-fortunately we have some such here in Chicago, and it is painful to know that some of them seized the solemn and mal-

J. H. PUTNAM, Esq., a member of the late Ohio Legislature from Licking county, and now editor of The Chillicothe Advertiser, has given to the immortality of type the ADJOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.

It ex-hausted its stock of wool, and the factory was forced to suspend operations for wan of the raw material to operate upon. It inserted a "bunch" of it into our election laws by amending them so as to allow mulattees to vote: it threw a whole "sack" Into our poor laws by compelling the trustees of our county infirmaries to receive negroes and place them on an equality with the destitute poor; it squandered a "fleece" in endeavoring to compel the Directors of our Common Schools to receive negroes into the schools on an equality with white children. But a few of the loyal had not been fully educated up to that high stand point; they had not been initiated into the inner mysteries of Abolitionism, and the measure tailed. It flung the remainder of its stock on hand squarely into the measure providthe pulpit, poured out maledictious upon all who had opposed the late Administra-tion; called them traitors, and said they must be "wiped out;" applauded the old ing a home for disabled soldiers, and nearly defeated the bill by endeavoring to inseran amendment that negro soldiers should murderer, John Brown, denounced The Times for having compared him with Booth, be received into the institution on an equal-Times for having compared him with Booth, and lamented that no measures had been taken to prevent the utterance of such treasonable sentiments in the future; attributed the death of Mr. Lincoln to the fostering of traitors in the loyal States, who were in business here, growing rich, but who must be "driven out;" and denounced the revocation of Burnside's order suppressing The Times. SYMPTOMS:

The symptoms of Catarrh as they generally appear are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition, the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin an acrid, afterwards becoming thick and adhesive. As the discase becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quantity; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive; causing a bad breath; the voice is thick and hasel; the eyes are weak; the sense of the small is lessed and or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place, Amother common and important symptom of Octarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his thrust in the morning of a thick or slimy mucus, which has fallen down from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should loss no time in arresting it.

The above are but a few of the many Catarrh eymptome.

A single Bottle will last a month. To be used three times a day.
